

The 2012 Netheravon Sequential Challenge

With Patrick Passe and Caroline
Hughes

4th – 7th May 2012

Founded at Netheravon almost 8 years ago, Skydive Choreography's mission from the start was to open doors to jumpers across the UK and help them get their first slots on some of the best invitational events in the world. Over the years these events have included some of the most creative and technically challenging ones of all; those run by world renowned complex large formation organiser, multiple French 4 and 8 way national competitor and World Team Captain, Patrick Passe.

Now finally the two combine, back at Netheravon where it all began, in an event that sees Patrick Passe and Caroline Hughes, founder of Skydive Choreography, deliver their first UK based joint event.

The plan

For four days in May 2012, 32 skydivers will be invited by Skydive Choreography to be part of a highly skilled group that will take on a series of technically challenging dive plans led by Patrick. Alongside this will be a second group who will take on smaller but equally challenging sequential skydives led by Caroline and who will also get the chance to jump with Patrick on some larger dives over the four day period.

Selection criteria

Selection of all participants will be made by Caroline - no exceptions.

To participate in either group participants must be 'above average' to 'excellent' in all exit and formation positions. This selection criteria is designed to ensure that both groups have the right people to enable high quality skydives.

Slots in Patrick's group will be offered to those who have mastered a wide range of higher level skills such as those required to perform consistently well in strength, precision and out-facing slots. Overall, Patrick's group is expected to be made up from a combination of any slot 'whenever, wherever' skydivers as well as those who's strongest skills are demonstrated in key 'central set-up' positions or outside 'patience' slots.

Slots on both groups will be filled on an invitational basis mainly, with priority given to Netheravon club jumpers. There will however be plenty of space for visiting UK jumpers and anyone who aspiring to be part of this event is welcome to express their interest.

As with any high experienced event, it is difficult to say yes to someone whose current skills are unknown. Because of this, we highly recommend indicating that you are willing to attend a selection event if any of the following apply to you:

1. You are not already known to Caroline and/or you cannot provide strong references from other 'high experience group' load organisers
2. You have accelerated your skills recently and want to improve our knowledge of what you are capable of.

If you simply want the chance to 'warm up' or do some good skydives with a quality group before May this is ok too, but please note that selection event slot priority will be given to those who are not offered a guaranteed slot on the 32 way group. Selection events themselves will need to be of a high level in order to properly assess jumpers. As a result we will not be offering selection event slots to those who clearly do not meet the minimum event criteria.
